Major Update on Drawings in Library

by Dave Dunlavy, EFR 41

The Technical Drawings section of the Library has been added to and reorganized. There are two sections that can be used to have CNC or waterjet work used. They are the 10 hp clutch fingers and floormats Model A items. IF you are going to use these, John Biggs says he takes all the drawings (3) to his machinist.

Let us know if this re-organization helps you.

Major Headings are:

- List if Model C Ford drawings available from Benson Archives.
- Model A Crankshaft Drawings – Rick Lindner
- Model F Muffler sketch – Dave Dunlavy
- 10 hp Clutch Fingers – John Biggs
- Floormats Model A – John Biggs
- Model S Roadster Mother-in-law grab handles – Dave Dunlavy
- Model N body drawings – full scale – Tim Morsher
- NRS Floormats – pictures – Dave Dunlavy

If you have any original drawings for us to add, please let me know. The format is quite important. We have an outstanding start of all drawings from our members, including the DeAngelis Collection and the Kristoffy Collection.

Preserving history is an important part of our Education function.

Stay Safe

Dave Dunlavy

Have You Read the Latest Newsletter ?

Just a question - - this is not a test. Since we send the newsletter to almost 200 souls, we normally do not get much feedback. I don't ever answer the email question "check this box if you read this", and I wouldn't blame you if you didn't either. Occasionally, I'll send something out using MailChimp. I can get feedback from them if mail is at least opened. As I said, this is only a reminder.

Keep 'em on the road.
